WHAT IS THE COMMUNION OF SAINTS? (pages 247–250 · CCC 946–962, paraphrased)

Free online Catechism of the Catholic Church: https://www.usccb.org/catechism-of-the-catholic-church

When we profess the communion of saints in the Apostles' Creed, we affirm that all who belong to Christ share one life in him. This family includes the faithful on earth, those being purified in purgatory, and the saints in heaven. St. Paul describes the Church as one body with many members, each connected to the others (1 Cor. 12:12–27).

Traditionally, the Church Militant means the faithful on earth striving against sin; the Church Suffering, or Church Penitent, means those being purified in purgatory; and the Church Triumphant means the saints in heaven. All remain united in Christ.

We share in the holy things (sancta) of the Church, and among holy persons (sancti). We share the faith, the gifts of the Holy Spirit, and the sacraments. In the Eucharist, Christ draws us closer to himself and to one another. Our life is a journey towards sanctification, or to be made holy. We also pray for one another. The saints in heaven intercede for us, and we remember and pray for the dead.

Christ Glorified in the Court of Heaven, Fra Angelico

Revelation pictures the prayers of the holy ones offered before God (Rev. 5:8). At Mass this week, remember someone who has died. Ask a saint to pray for a person in need. The faithful share faith, sacraments, charisms, generosity, and charity, especially in union through the Eucharist. Death does not end this communion. Saints intercede for us; we pray for the departed. In this way, we belong to one family, one body in Christ.
